Dear All,

I just wanted to give you a final update for the week, having just seen everyone safely on this afternoon.

The children have been absolutely brilliant today, they have really shone. If the rest of society respond to this challenge in the way have, our world will become a far better place as a result of all this.

We had mini-celebrations for Years 11 and 13, even though this isn't definitely their last day, it felt right to mark it. We have promised them that we will do this again properly at some point in the future when circumstances allow.

The Department for Education have today released further information on how GCSE and A' level grades will be awarded this summer This can be found here. Please remind the students that there is still plenty of time to make a good impression on their teachers before these grades are finalised!

The website has now been updated on further guidance to support learning at home and this information can be found at <https://salesian.surrey.sch.uk/home-learning/>

We will be in touch again next week but in the meantime, best wishes for a peaceful weekend.

God bless,

James Kibble
